

OUR LOCAL SCHOOLS

FOCUS ON THE POSITIVE

Santa visits students at Frank Nicholas Elementary in West Carrollton.

LEFT: Walter Shade Early Childhood Center kindergartners perform at the West Carrollton Senior Citizens Holiday Luncheon.

The girls chorus from Watts Middle School in Centerville recently performed at Laurelwood Senior Living Center.

Students at the Trotwood-Madison Early Learning Center perform their holiday program, titled "Baking Cookies with Santa," in front of friends and family Dec. 16.

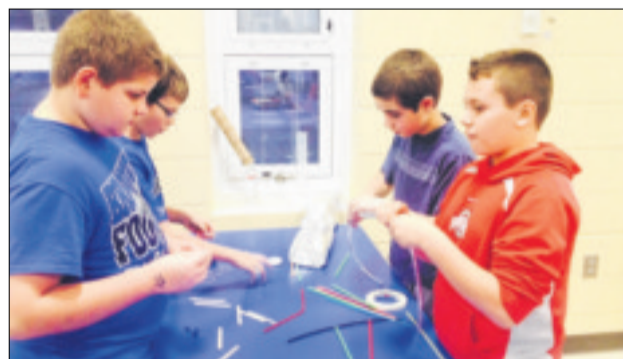

Valley View Junior High School students gather at the field.

RIGHT: Trotwood Middle School students competed in the CougarBot FLL Tournament on Nov. 22 at Thurgood Marshall High School in Dayton, where they were awarded the Core Values Trophy for their teamwork and sportsmanship. Pictured are (back row, left to right) Marcus Howard, Terrance Gates and Nathan Martin; (front row, left to right) Solange Cooper, Jazmyn Zachary, Tremain Zachary, Jesse Foley, Kaulin Barnes and Paul Murray.

Students hold goods collected during Miamisburg Middle School's Holiday Canned Food Drive. Pictured are (from left to right) Allie North, Brett Pridemore, Juliana Kaylor, Phoebe Hornak, Kamryn Clark, Jasmin Dorr, Hope McGrew, Joanna Botha and Matthew Barga.

Brookville students Jimmy Smith, Konor Clark-Johnson, Logan Marburger and Matt Gitzinger experiment with engineering design at the Moving Water STEM event. Students were challenged to imagine, plan, create and improve as they followed the engineering design process.

Smith Middle School in Vandalia hosted more than 500 grandparents Nov. 25 for Grandparents' Day. Grandparents spent time doing various activities with their grandchildren. Pictured are (from left) Marshall, Gabe and Betty Jeffers.

Brookville Intermediate School's sixth-grade choir concert, led by Mrs. Sipusic, brought holiday spirit to attendees.

Kinder Elementary "Polar Express" students participate in the Miamisburg Community Holiday Parade. Pictured are Ethan Warner (holding the K), Jayda Boles (I), Arianna Roberts (N), Kelsanne Lane (D), Brent Aldridge (E) and Eli Bledsoe (R).

ABOUT THIS PAGE

■ This weekly page is focused on the 16 Montgomery County public school districts involved in Learn to Earn Dayton, a collective impact initiative committed to ensuring that children in the Dayton region are ready for kindergarten, third-grade reading proficient, and college and career ready.